

What People Say...

Tales to Commemorate Events

"Thank you so much for the beautiful card. I was so touched by your poem. It really deeply spoke to all the places in me that long to bring through what you speak of."

Rebecca Mayes, Transition Songstress, Feb 2012. Piece composed to commemorate her birthday.

Blog Posts

"Well done for bringing light and inspiration into so many lives over the past months" Naomi Waters, Transition Wolverhampton, walk host.

"you are a true inspiration to follow our dreams" Deborah Kaplan, blog reader, USA

"funny, sad, insightful, inspiring posts" Transition Wimborne walk host and blog reader

"What a fantastic achievement! What an inspiration!" Andrew Smith Transition Poole, walk host & blog reader

"moving and life enhancing" Harriet Transition Bournemouth hub, walk host and blog reader

"I found you truly inspiring" Pam, Transition Stourbridge, walk host and blog reader

"inspiring" Val Ferriman, Transition Kendal, walk host & blog reader

"Being involved in Steph's walk last year was a fantastic experience for me, There were so many opportunities to create dialogue both in chance encounters and organised events along the way, the walk really embodied an different way of living and the whole thing was a joyful experience. Steph's blog gives a really good sense of what it felt like,"

Marion Leeper, storyteller, walk host & blog reader, Cambridge.

"Really enjoying the things you post. Diverse, beautiful and inspiring"

Linda Ananda, Yoga teacher, March 2012

"Awesome story telling Steph - your passion is irresistible. Ho to the happy ending to come"

Linda Etherden, Citizens Advice Bureau, March 2012

"A powerful and emotional read."

Ben Brangwyn, Co Founder of the Transition Movement, March 2012

"I love the detail in your story telling, and I love the passion with which you engage with positive possibility"

Joanna Watters, Sustainable Parenting Worker, March 2012

"I have stumbled across your wonderful blog via my Earth Pathways diary, and very happy I am, to have discovered someone with such enthusiasm for life... Keep blogging with your tales of country matters; I will be an avid listener."

Jan, Transition Network Subscriber, April 2012

"Beautifully put. That's some voice you have – you really are enriching the world with your words. [...] a stunning piece of writing."

Ben Brangwyn, Co-Founder of the Transition Movement, April 2012

"...what a beautiful writer you are"

Amber Ponton, PA to Rob Hopkins, Transition Network. April 2012

"...your wonderful words [...] are detonating all over the place for me"

Peter Lipman, Policy Director, Sustrans, Chair, Transition Network, April 2012

Poetry

"Stunningly Wonderful"

Cliona O'Connail, Body Centred Counsellor, March 2012

"Potent...powerful...inspiring"

Iessaiah, Energy Healer, March 2012

"Very powerful and moving"

Janey Francis, teacher & therapist, March 2012

"Beautiful"

Various readers, Creative Community Devon, April 2012

"What (a) beautiful poem, story and painting! The painting is quite magnificent [...] I'm treasuring your gifts!"

Annie Ley Marie, TTT skills share coordinator, April 2012

"...your words speak [...] truth with such clarity"

Luka Love, Masseur & Counsellor, April 2012

"Another beautiful heart-stirring poem from you"

Janey Francis, teacher & therapist, May 2012